Touch of the exotic in decor

Déc'oh! homes and gardens show from 25th to 28th of March

The big tent in Fontvieille transforms into a homes and gardens show for four days this month with the Déc'oh! exhibition from 25th to 28th of March.

Organised by the Promocom Group under the aegis of the Sovereign Prince, Déc'oh! has built its reputation on its ability to attract originality, quality and creativity when selecting exhibitors.

The exhibition is divided into two distinct sections, one devoted to all things related to interior design in the home and the other to gardening. From funky furniture to fabulous fabrics, objets d'art to household appliances, artistic creations to eco-friendly ideas on how to decorate and furnish your living space, all are here under one canvas.

The idea of home as a safe haven in an uncertain world has never been more prevalent, and this return to the "cocoon" has fanned the flames of desire to create the ideal residence.

Harmonious colours, elegant lines and a seamless link between indoors and outdoors define the way we want to live these days. Natural materials, craftsmanship and a softly,

Imaginative ideas for your home, garden, balcony or terrace at a fair where the emphasis is on the Mediterranean and Côte d'Azur sofely approach to the environment are in fashion.

Outside the main tent of the Espace Fontvieille the garden section of Déc'oh! blooms with ideas on how to brighten up the smallest balcony or terrace.

The colours of the South and a range of garden furniture and pavilions, with greatly improved resistance to the destructive rays of the sun or mildew, will be on show.

Raw materials, woven synthetic fibres, lacquered stainless steel, aluminium and recyclable fabrics are among the main trends.

Landscape gardeners, nurseries, potters, garden furniture and verandah designers, as well as pool and spa specialists will be on hand.
